

Nicholas Urie has been volunteering with Calgary Legal Guidance since 2012. He presently volunteers twice a month at CLG's evening clinic. Nicholas enjoys the evening clinic because of the diversity of legal problems it presents together with the opportunity to truly help someone in less than half an hour.

Nicholas has a Bachelor of Commerce and Master of Laws from the University of Alberta. His passion for volunteerism and the law began in his first year of law school and he volunteered at the University of Alberta's Student Legal Services all three years. He also currently volunteers with Pro Bono Law Alberta, where he received the 2015 Pro Bono Law Alberta Volunteer Award for the VLS volunteer who picked up the highest number of non-profit files in 2015.

When not volunteering, Nicholas practices Civil Litigation and Family Law with Merchant Law Group LLP where he often appears before the Court of Appeal, Court of Queen's Bench, and Provincial Court.
